

C4 THERAPEUTICS, INC.

Code of Business Conduct and Ethics

I. Purpose and Scope

The Board of Directors of C4 Therapeutics, Inc. (together with its subsidiaries, the “Company”) has adopted this Code of Business Conduct and Ethics (this “Code”) to aid the Company’s directors, officers, employees and certain designated agents in making ethical and legal decisions when conducting the Company’s business and performing their day-to-day duties.

The Company’s Board of Directors (the “Board”) or a committee of the Board is responsible for administering the Code. The Board has delegated day-to-day responsibility for administering and interpreting the Code to a Compliance Officer.

The Company expects its directors, officers, employees and designated agents to exercise reasonable judgment when conducting the Company’s business. The Company encourages its directors, officers, employees and designated agents to refer to this Code frequently to ensure that they are acting within both the letter and spirit of this Code. The Company also understands that this Code will not answer every problem you may encounter or address every concern you may have about conducting the Company’s business ethically and legally. In these situations, or if you otherwise have questions or concerns about this Code or how to ensure your compliance with the spirit and language of this Code, the Company encourages you to speak with your supervisor (if applicable) or, if you are uncomfortable doing that, with the Compliance Officer.

The Company’s directors, officers, employees and designated agents generally have other legal and contractual obligations to the Company. This Code is not intended to reduce or limit the other obligations you may have to the Company. Instead, this Code should be viewed as imposing the minimum standards the Company expects from its directors, officers and employees in the conduct of the Company’s business.

II. Standards of Conduct

A. Compliance with Laws, Rules and Regulations, Whistleblower Protection

The Company requires that all employees, officers, directors and designated agents comply with all laws, rules and regulations applicable to the Company wherever it does business. You are expected to use good judgment and common sense in seeking to comply with all applicable laws, rules and regulations and to ask for advice when you are uncertain about them.

If you become aware of the violation of any law, rule or regulation by the Company, whether by its officers, employees, directors, or any third party doing business on behalf of the Company, subject to the provisions in the following paragraph, it is your responsibility to promptly report the matter to your supervisor or to the Chief Legal Officer.

Whistleblower Protection: Nothing contained in this Code, any agreement you have entered into with the Company, or any other Company policy limits your ability, with or without notice to the Company, to: (i) file a charge or complaint with any federal, state or local governmental agency or commission (a “Government Agency”) such as the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, the National Labor Relations Board or the Securities and Exchange Commission (the “SEC”); (ii) communicate with any Government Agency or otherwise participate in any investigation or proceeding that may be conducted by any Government Agency, including by providing information or documents not subject to attorney-client privilege; (iii) exercise any rights under Section 7 of the National Labor Relations Act, which are available to non-supervisory employees, including assisting co-workers with or discussing any employment issue as part of engaging in concerted activities for the purpose of mutual aid or protection; (iv) share compensation information concerning you or others (provided that this does not permit you to disclose compensation information concerning others that you obtain because your job responsibilities require or allow access to such information); (v) discuss or disclose information about unlawful acts in the workplace, such as harassment or discrimination or any other conduct that you have reason to believe is unlawful; or (vi) testify truthfully in a legal proceeding. Any communications and disclosures related to these matters must be consistent with applicable law and the information disclosed must not have been obtained through a communication that was subject to the attorney-client privilege (unless disclosure of that information would otherwise be permitted consistent with such privilege or applicable law). The Company will not limit any right you may have to receive an award pursuant to the whistleblower provisions of any applicable law or regulation for providing information to the SEC or any other Government Agency. Any provisions of any agreement between the Company and any current or former employee that is inconsistent with the above language or that may limit or interfere with the ability of any person to receive an award under the whistleblower provisions of applicable law will not be enforced by the Company.

B. Conflicts of Interest

The Company recognizes and respects the right of its directors, officers, employees and designated agents to engage in outside activities that they may deem proper and desirable, provided that these activities do not impair or interfere with the performance of their duties to the Company or their ability to act in the Company’s best interests. In most, if not all, cases this will mean that the Company’s directors, officers and employees must avoid situations that present a potential or actual conflict between their personal interests or outside professional interests and the Company’s interests.

A “conflict of interest” occurs when a director’s, officer’s, employee’s or designated agent’s personal interest interferes with the Company’s interests. Conflicts of interest can arise in many situations. For example, conflicts of interest can arise when a director, officer, employee or designated agent takes an action or has an outside interest, responsibility or obligation that can make it difficult for him or her to perform the responsibilities of his or her position objectively or effectively in the Company’s best interests. Conflicts of interest can also occur when a director, officer or employee or his or her immediate family member receives some personal benefit (whether improper or not) as a result of the director’s, officer’s, employee’s or designated agent’s position with the Company or by virtue of having confidential information about the Company. Each individual's situation is different and in evaluating his or her own situation, a director, officer or employee will have to consider many factors.

Any material transaction, responsibility, obligation, or relationship that reasonably could be expected to give rise to a conflict of interest should be reported promptly to the Compliance Officer, who may notify the Board or a committee of the Board as he or she deems appropriate. Actual or potential conflicts of interest involving a director or officer or employee other than the Compliance Officer should be disclosed directly to the Compliance Officer. Actual or potential conflicts of interest involving the Compliance Officer should be disclosed directly to the Chief Executive Officer.

The giving and receiving of business gifts and entertainment are meant to create goodwill and sound working relationships and not to gain improper advantage with partners, collaborators, customers, or vendors or to facilitate approvals from government officials. The exchange, as a normal business courtesy, of meals or entertainment (such as tickets to a game or the theater or a round of golf) or other non-cash gifts is a common and acceptable practice as long as it is not extravagant. Giving or receiving products or services of value to get or retain business raises not only moral concerns, but also serious legal concerns, and is prohibited, even in foreign markets where such practices are widely considered "a way of doing business." The Company's directors, officers, employees, and designated agents should never accept lavish or expensive gifts or gifts of cash or gifts or entertainment that may reasonably be deemed to affect their judgment or actions in the performance of their duties. The Company's partners, suppliers, collaborators, contributors, consumers and the public at large should know that the judgment of the Company's personnel is not for sale. If you have any questions about whether the giving or receiving of a particular gift or other product or service is appropriate or permissible, please consult with the Compliance Officer.

C. Insider Trading

Employees, officers, directors and designated agents who have material non-public information about the Company or other companies, including the Company's partners, suppliers, collaboration partners and customers, as a result of their relationship with the Company are prohibited by law and Company policy from trading in securities of the Company or such other companies, as well as from communicating such information to others who might trade on the basis of that information. To help ensure that you do not engage in prohibited insider trading and avoid even the appearance of an improper transaction, the Company has adopted a Statement of Company Policy on Insider Trading, Special Trading Procedures for Insiders, and a 10b5-1 Policy (collectively referred to as the "Insider Trading Policy"), which is distributed to employees and is also available from the Legal Department and on the Intranet.

If you are uncertain about the constraints on your purchase or sale of any Company securities or the securities of any other company that you are familiar with by virtue of your relationship with the Company, you should consult with the Compliance Officer before making any such purchase or sale.

D. Confidentiality

Subject to the whistleblower protections set forth in Section II.A., employees, officers, directors and designated agents must maintain the confidentiality of confidential information entrusted to them by the Company or other companies, including the Company's suppliers, collaborators and customers, except when disclosure is authorized by a supervisor or legally mandated. Unauthorized disclosure or improper use of any confidential information is prohibited. Improper use of confidential information includes using confidential information of the Company to make a personal profit or avoid a personal loss, or in any manner that is not exclusively in furtherance of the Company's business strategies or for the Company's benefit or that is otherwise outside the scope of your employment. Additionally, directors, officers, employees and designated agents should take appropriate precautions to ensure that confidential or sensitive business information, whether it is proprietary to the Company or another company, is not communicated within the Company except to directors, officers, employees and designated agents who have a need to know such information to perform their responsibilities for the Company.

Third parties may ask you for information concerning the Company. Subject to the exceptions noted in the preceding paragraph and the whistleblower protections set forth in Section II.A., employees, officers, directors and designated agents (other than the Company's authorized spokespersons) must not discuss internal Company matters with, or disseminate internal Company information to, anyone outside the Company, except as required in the performance of their Company duties and, if appropriate, after a confidentiality agreement is in place. This prohibition applies particularly to inquiries concerning the Company from the media, market professionals (such as securities analysts, institutional investors, investment advisers, brokers and dealers) and security holders. All responses to inquiries on behalf of the Company must be made only by the Company's authorized spokespersons. If you receive any inquiries of this nature, you must decline to comment and refer the inquirer to your supervisor or one of the Company's authorized spokespersons. The Company's policies with respect to public disclosure of internal matters are described more fully in the Company's Corporate Communications Policies and Procedures, which document is available on the Company's Intranet.

You also must abide by any lawful obligations that you have to your former employer. These obligations may include restrictions on the use and disclosure of confidential information, restrictions on the solicitation of former colleagues to work at the Company and non-competition obligations.

E. Honest and Ethical Conduct and Fair Dealing

Employees, officers, directors and designated agents should endeavor to deal honestly, ethically and fairly with the Company's suppliers, collaboration partners, customers, competitors and employees. Statements regarding the Company's products and services must not be untrue, misleading, deceptive or fraudulent. You must not take unfair advantage of anyone through manipulation, concealment, abuse of privileged information, misrepresentation of material facts or any other unfair-dealing practice.

The Company is committed to conducting its research and development activities, including its preclinical research and clinical development, adhering to the highest ethical standards. The Company's processes for planning, conducting and overseeing clinical trials are designed to respect the human rights of trial participants, including particularly vulnerable populations. The Company seeks to ensure that it adheres to all legal, ethical and scientific standards, whether in industrialized or low- and middle-income countries. In addition to relevant national laws and regulations, these standards include the Good Clinical Practice (GCP) guidelines of the International Council for Harmonization of Technical Requirements for Pharmaceuticals for Human Use (ICH) and the Declaration of Helsinki of the World Medical Association. The Company is committed to the publication of all of its clinical research for the medicines it seeks to develop, irrespective of whether the results are positive or negative. By making clinical trial information available, the Company informs patients, investigators and healthcare professionals about the clinical research the Company sponsors, promoting the distribution of knowledge and minimizing the risk of duplication of research efforts and generally contributing towards transparency.

F. Protection and Proper Use of Corporate Assets

Employees, officers, directors and designated agents should seek to protect the Company's assets. Theft, carelessness and waste have a direct impact on the Company's financial performance. Employees, officers and directors must use the Company's assets and services solely for legitimate business purposes of the Company and not for any personal benefit or the personal benefit of anyone else.

G. Corporate Opportunities

Employees, officers, directors and designated agents owe a duty to the Company to advance its legitimate business interests when the opportunity to do so arises. Each employee, officer and director is prohibited from:

- diverting to himself or herself or to others any opportunities that are discovered through the use of the Company's property or information or as a result of his or her position with the Company unless that opportunity has first been presented to, and rejected by, the Company;
- using the Company's property or information or his or her position for improper personal gain; or
- competing with the Company.

H. Political Contributions

Business contributions to political campaigns are strictly regulated by federal, state, provincial and local law in the U.S. and many other jurisdictions. Accordingly, all political contributions proposed to be made with the Company's funds must be coordinated through and approved by the Compliance Officer. Directors, officers, employees and designated agents may not, without the approval of the Compliance Officer, use any Company funds for political contributions of any kind to any political candidate or holder of any national, state or local government office. Directors, officers, employees and designated agents may make personal contributions, but should not represent that they are making contributions on the Company's behalf. Specific questions should be directed to the Compliance Officer.

I. Bribes, Kickbacks and Other Improper Payments

The Company does not permit or condone bribes, kickbacks or other improper payments, transfers or receipts. No director, officer, employee or designated agent should offer, give, solicit or receive any money or other item of value for the purpose of obtaining, retaining or directing business or bestowing or receiving any kind of favored treatment. The Company's Foreign Corrupt Practices Act (the "FCPA") and Anti-Corruption Policy further establishes the Company's policies and guidelines to facilitate compliance with the FCPA and similar anti-corruption laws of other nations by all Company directors, officers, employees or designated agents.

J. International Trade Controls

Many countries regulate international trade transactions, such as imports, exports and international financial transactions and prohibit boycotts against countries or firms that may be "blacklisted" by certain groups or countries. The Company's policy is to comply with these regulations and prohibitions even if compliance may result in the loss of some business opportunities. Employees should learn and understand the extent to which international trade controls apply to transactions conducted by the Company.

K. Accuracy of Records

Employees, officers, directors and designated agents must honestly and accurately report all business transactions. You are responsible for the accuracy of your records and reports. Accurate information is essential to the Company's ability to meet legal and regulatory obligations.

All Company books, records and accounts shall be maintained in accordance with all applicable regulations and standards and accurately reflect the true nature of the transactions they record. The financial statements of the Company shall conform to generally accepted accounting rules and the Company's accounting policies. No undisclosed or unrecorded account or fund shall be established for any purpose. No false or misleading entries shall be made in the Company's books or records for any reason, and no disbursement of corporate funds or other corporate property shall be made without adequate supporting documentation.

L. Quality of Public Disclosures

It is the policy of the Company to provide full, fair, accurate, timely, non-misleading and understandable disclosure in reports and documents filed with, or submitted to, the SEC and in other public communications. The Company's Corporate Communications Policies and Procedures further establishes the Company's policies and procedures with respect to public disclosures and establishes a framework designed to ensure compliance with the Company's disclosure obligations under applicable federal and state securities laws.

M. Data Privacy

The Company is committed to honoring and protecting the privacy of the individuals who entrust the Company with their personal information as a basic human right. This commitment extends from the point where personal information is acquired, to how it is used and managed in Company operations, and to the point it is returned or deleted when it is no longer needed. All Company directors, officers, employees and designated agents are accountable for ensuring the appropriate protection and management of any personal data that the Company handles in the course of performing their duties and responsibilities on behalf of the Company.

N. Fostering an Inclusive Workplace

The Company is committed to building an inclusive workplace where all directors, officers, employees, and designated agents feel a sense of belonging and have the opportunity to contribute and thrive in meaningful and impactful ways. The Company believes an inclusive environment enables the Company to bring forward diverse perspectives and embrace new ways of thinking. Together, the Company's directors, officers, employees, and designated agents champion each other's ideas to advance science and accelerate the Company's collective impact to patients.

III. Compliance Procedures

A. Communication of Code

All current directors, officers, employees and designated agents are being supplied a copy of the Code. Future directors, officers and employees will be supplied a copy of the Code when beginning service at the Company. All directors, officers and employees will be expected to review and sign an acknowledgment regarding the Code on a periodic basis. Updates of the Code, when adopted, will be promptly supplied to directors, officers and employees. Directors, officers and employees also can obtain a copy of the Code by requesting one from the human resources department or by accessing the Company's website at www.c4therapeutics.com.

B. Monitoring Compliance and Disciplinary Action

The Company's management, under the supervision of its Board or a committee of the Board or, in the case of accounting, internal accounting controls, auditing or securities law matters, the Audit Committee of the Board of Directors (the "Audit Committee"), shall take reasonable steps to (i) monitor compliance with the Code, and (ii) when appropriate, impose and enforce appropriate disciplinary measures for violations of the Code.

Disciplinary measures for violations of the Code will be determined in the Company's sole discretion and may include, but are not limited to, counseling, training, oral or written reprimands, warnings, probation or suspension with or without pay, demotions, reductions in salary, termination of employment or service, and restitution.

The Company's management shall periodically report to the Board or a committee of the Board on these compliance efforts including, without limitation, alleged violations of the Code and the actions taken with respect to violations.

C. Communication Channels

Be Proactive. Every director, officer, employee and designated agent is encouraged to act proactively by asking questions, seeking guidance and reporting suspected violations of the Code and other policies and procedures of the Company, as well as any violation or suspected violation of law, rule or regulation resulting from the conduct of the Company's business or occurring on the Company's property. If any director, officer, employee or designated agent believes that actions have taken place, may be taking place, or may be about to take place that violate or would violate the Code or any law, rule or regulation applicable to the Company, he or she is obligated (subject to the whistleblower protections set forth in Section II.A above) to bring the matter to the attention of the Company. The Company's whistleblower hotline number is (855) 222-0916. An online reporting option is: <https://www.lighthouse-services.com/c4therapeutics>. Reports can also be submitted anonymously through email (reports@lighthouse-services.com), though please be sure to identify "C4 Therapeutics, Inc." as the subject of the report. The identity of the individual making the report will not be shared with Company personnel.

Seeking Guidance. The best starting point for officers or employees seeking advice on ethics-related issues or wishing to report potential violations of the Code will usually be their supervisor. However, if the conduct in question involves an officer's or employee's supervisor, if the officer or employee has reported the conduct in question to the supervisor and does not believe that the supervisor has dealt with it properly, or if the officer or employee does not feel comfortable discussing the matter with the supervisor, the officer or employee may raise the matter with the Compliance Officer.

Communication Alternatives. Any officer or employee may communicate with the Compliance Officer, or report potential violations of the Code, by any of the following methods:

- By e-mail to the General Counsel (anonymity cannot be maintained);
- By e-mail to the whistleblower hotline system at reports@lighthouse-services.com (the identity of the individual making the report will not be shared with Company personnel but the email must identify "C4 Therapeutics, Inc." as the subject of the report);
- In writing (which can be done anonymously as set forth below under "Anonymity"), addressed to the Compliance Officer, by mail to 490 Arsenal Way, Suite 120, Watertown, MA 02472;
- Online at <https://www.lighthouse-services.com/c4therapeutics> (which may be done anonymously as set forth below under "Anonymity"); or

- By phone to the Company’s whistleblower hotline. The hotline can be reached at (855) 222-0916 and complaints can be submitted anonymously as set forth below under “Anonymity.”

Reporting Accounting and Similar Concerns. Concerns or questions regarding potential violations of the Code, a Company policy or procedure or laws, rules or regulations relating to accounting, internal accounting controls, or auditing or securities law matters will be directed to the Audit Committee or a designee of the Audit Committee in accordance with the procedures established by the Audit Committee for receiving, retaining and treating complaints regarding accounting, internal accounting controls or auditing matters. Officers and employees can also communicate directly with the Audit Committee or its designee regarding such matters by the following methods (which can be done anonymously as set forth below under “Anonymity”):

- By e-mail to the General Counsel (anonymity cannot be maintained);
- By e-mail to the whistleblower hotline system at reports@lighthouse-services.com (the identity of the individual making the report will not be shared with Company personnel but the email must identify “C4 Therapeutics, Inc.” as the subject of the report);
- In writing (which can be done anonymously as set forth below under “Anonymity”), addressed to the Compliance Officer, by mail to 490 Arsenal Way, Suite 120, Watertown, MA 02472;
- Online at <https://www.lighthouse-services.com/c4therapeutics> (which may be done anonymously as set forth below under “Anonymity”); or
- By phone to the Company’s whistleblower hotline. The hotline can be reached at (855) 222-0916 and complaints submitted anonymously as set forth below under “Anonymity.”

Cooperation. The Company’s employees, officers, directors and designated agents are expected to cooperate with the Company in any investigation of a potential violation of the Code, any other Company policy or procedure, or any law, rule or regulation.

Misuse of Reporting Channels. The Company’s employees, officers, directors and designated agents should not use these reporting channels in bad faith or in a false or frivolous manner or to report grievances that do not involve the Code or other ethics-related issues.

Director Communications. In addition to the foregoing methods, a director also can communicate concerns or seek advice with respect to this Code by contacting the Board through its Chair or the Audit Committee.

D. Anonymity

The Company prefers that its officers and employees, when reporting suspected violations of the Code, identify themselves to facilitate the Company’s ability to take steps to address the suspected violation, including conducting an investigation. However, the Company also recognizes that some people may feel more comfortable reporting a suspected violation anonymously.

An officer, employee, director or designated agent of the Company who wishes to remain anonymous may do so, and the Company will use reasonable efforts to protect confidentiality. If a report is made anonymously, however, the Company may not have sufficient information to investigate or evaluate the allegations. Accordingly, persons who report suspected violations anonymously should provide as much detail as they can to permit the Company to evaluate the allegation and, if it deems appropriate, conduct an investigation.

E. No Retaliation

The Company forbids any retaliation against an officer or employee who, acting in good faith on the basis of a reasonable belief, reports suspected misconduct. Specifically, the Company will not discharge, demote, suspend, threaten, harass or in any other manner discriminate against, such an officer or employee. Anyone who participates in any such conduct is subject to disciplinary action, including termination. Any officer or employee who suspects they are the subject of retaliatory action is encouraged to report such action to the Compliance Officer or the Company's whistleblower hotline through one of the communication channels referenced in Section C above.

IV. Waivers and Amendments

No waiver of any provisions of the Code for the benefit of a director or an officer (which includes, without limitation, the Company's principal executive, financial and accounting officers) shall be effective unless (i) approved by the Board or, if permitted, the Audit Committee, and (ii) if required, the waiver is promptly disclosed to the Company's securityholders in accordance with applicable U.S. securities laws and the rules and regulations of the exchange or system on which the Company's shares are traded or quoted, as the case may be.

Any waivers of the Code for other employees may be made by the Compliance Officer, the Board or, if permitted, the Audit Committee.

All amendments to the Code must be approved by the Board and, if required, must be promptly disclosed to the Company's securityholders in accordance with United States securities laws and Nasdaq rules and regulations.

Adopted September 8, 2020, subject to effectiveness of the Company's Registration Statement on Form S-1; amended on September 20, 2022 as to updated hotline information; amended and restated as of June 20, 2024, June 18, 2025, and June 24, 2026.
